$15,000,000 In Three Years

A three-year campaign for $15,000,000 to establish a University of Judaism in New York City to train leaders and workers for American Jewish community life was announced at a conference on a University of Judaism at the Jewish Theological Seminary of America, Broadway and 122nd Street. Samuel S. Schneierson, chairman of the seminary's Board of Overseers, said the proposal called for a $5,000,000 annual campaign for the next three years.

The university would be developed from the schools and services already functioning at the seminary. Ultimately the university would include an expanded Rabbinical School, a School of Jewish Education, a School of Jewish Communal Service, a Center of Jewish Music, Arts and Letters, and a School for Advanced Jewish Studies.

The announcement followed addresses by Salo W. Baron, professor of Jewish History, Columbia University, and Professor Mordecai M. Kaplan of the seminary, in which the destruction of Jewish centres in Europe and the need for the creation of a vital spiritual leadership among the Jews of the U. S. were pointed out.

Former Governor Herbert H. Lehman proposed that $1,500 annual stipends be given to young men and women with talent in the arts and social or theoretical sciences to provide "the opportunity for simultaneous development of professional techniques and spiritual insight."

The fellowships would be given first to those whom the university is equipped to serve, that is, man- [illegible] community.

[illegible] investment-bankers [illegible] new foundation." He said the basic principle of the proposal was applicable to all Americans, and that once established, the plan could be widened in scope, perhaps in cooperation with other institutions of learning.

"Our responsibility is an even more urgent one today because the war did more than cheat the world of an enormous reservoir of potential leadership," he continued. "The dislocations imposed by war appear also to have undermined very seriously, where they did not utterly destroy, the spiritual foundations of great numbers.

"If blindly we have used up men and women who would have emerged as leaders of their generation, we certainly must make some conscious, planned effort to replace them."

Mr. Lehman pointed out also that most existing fellowships in the arts or social and theoretical sciences were awarded to those who already had demonstrated mature ability.

"It is not the artist or social scientist who has 'arrived' who most needs our help," he said. "It is the young man and woman who is just starting on the way. For without proper help he or she may never translate creative dreams into meaningful reality."

Mr. Lehman received the Solomon Schecter Award from Samuel Rothstein, president of the United Synagogue of America. The award, "for distinguished service to America and the world," was established by the United Synagogue this year in memory of the second president of the seminary, who was a leader in the development of Conservative Judaism.

The award referred to the integrity and highmindedness with which Mr. Lehman fulfilled great positions of trust and responsibility as Governor of New York and director of the United Nations Relief and Rehabilitation Administration and praised him "for exemplifying in his public and private life the religious and moral ideals of the Prophets of Israel who urged men onward to justice to their fellowmen and to the love and service of God."

Birthrate Rises; Fewer Jews Leaving Poland

A marked rise in the birthrate among Jewish wards in the displaced persons centers in the American zone of occupation in Germany is one of the major changes noted in Berlin by Dr. Joseph J. Schwartz, chairman of the European Executive Council of the American Joint Distribution Committee in his current tour of such installations. Dr. Schwartz also remarked upon the cessation of mass flights of Jews from Poland into the zone in Germany.

An improved situation in Poland in recent weeks has apparently reduced materially the number of Jews fleeing into Germany and especially into the American zone, Dr. Schwartz commented. This movement reached its peak in September, when 36,000 crossed the borders. Dr. Schwartz believes the present "trickle" involves 150 to 200 persons daily, although the rate is not constant.

About 80,000 to 90,000 Jews still remain in Poland, he estimated. Some of them will undoubtedly take advantage of the French offer of 7,000 visas for Jews to settle in France and others will go to Belgium under a similar visa offer. In all 60,000 to 70,000 Jews have arrived in the American zone of Germany, Dr. Schwartz computed.

The Jewish population remaining in the German camps he put at about 185,000, of whom 150,000 are in the American-held area. He said the Jews comprise about 25 per cent of all displaced persons now in Germany, who total 830,000, to 850,000.

Of the 400,000 Jews resident in [illegible] in 1939, Dr. Schwartz [illegible] remain [illegible]

[illegible] authority to [illegible] the country from the League of Nations and, unless she fulfills the terms of that trust, she must return it to the heir of the league, the United Nations. The Jewish people will agree to one and only one alternative to its rightful legal status under the mandate. This alternative is that the mandatory regime be succeeded by the establishment of a Jewish state."

Dr. Sneh charged that members of the Arab Higher Committee in Palestine constantly visited the Mufti of Jerusalem, who is now in Egypt. He said that the Mufti was regarded as the real Arab leader.

He added that there was no genuine Arab military force in Palestine and that in other Arab countries the armed forces were completely dependent on British equipment, training and officers.

The amnesty ordered by the Colonial Office is reported to cover Dr. Sneh.

Dr. Sneh accused the British Government of attempting not only to destroy the entire Zionist movement but to stop Jewish immigration into Palestine, at a meeting in Manhattan Center, 311 West Thirty-fourth Street, under the auspices of the Zionist Organization of America. Dr. Emanuel Neumann, vice-president of the ZOA and chairman of the interim committee, presided.

Asserting that the withdrawal of the warrant for his arrest by the Palestine authorities would not affect his determination to continue the fight for the establishment of a Jewish state as the only basis for negotiations with the British Government, Dr. Sneh said that hundreds of thousands of displaced Jews in Europe are ready to break the blockade thrown up around Palestine. He said that the recent elections in Palestine of delegates to the forthcoming World Zionist Congress in Switzerland indicated that 82 per cent of the Jewish community actively support the Haganah, the Jewish defense corps of Palestine. He added that 90 per cent are opposed to the methods employed by the separatist groups.

Dr. Sneh declared that the Haganah was united solidly in resisting all attempts by the British to bar Jews from entering Palestine, reports the New York Times. "Particularly disturbing," he said, "is the inculcation of the thousands of British troops stationed in Palestine with anti-Semitic sentiments and slogans." He charged that this anti-Jewish prejudice is deliberately fostered by high officials of the Palestine administration and the British military.

It was announced at the meeting that Dr. Sneh would return soon to Palestine to confer with the eight other Jewish Agency leaders who were recently released from the Latrun detention camp

Aide, Formerly Hunted, Is In U.S.

Moshe Sneh, the 37-year-old security officer of the Jewish Agency for Palestine for whom the British sought unsuccessfully since the King David Hotel was bombed, arrived in New York from Paris.

In an interview in the Hotel Biltmore, he denounced terroristic outbursts in Palestine. At the same time he charged that some of the British in Palestine are fomenting conflict between the Jews and the Arabs.

Dr. Sneh, who is president of the World Confederation of General Zionists and who was sought by the British on the ground that he was one of the leading figures of Haganah, the Jewish defense force in Palestine, said he was not prepared to state that it is the general policy of the British administration in that country to stir up trouble between the Jews and Arabs.

He insisted, however, that "some of the English in Palestine are following that course of conduct."

Discussing the question of partition, Dr. Sneh declared that the Jewish Agency had not proposed partition. He said the Agency had merely suggested its readiness to enter in discussions of "a plan for a viable Jewish state in an adequate part of Palestine.

"The present regime in Palestine is not a lawful regime," Dr. Sneh said, "and the responsibility for disorders and the deplorable bloodshed now going on in the country falls on the heads of the British Government. If for any reason whatsoever Britain has come to the point of being unable or unwilling to carry out the mandate, she is not entitled to impose on [illegible]

Says Britain Makes Palestine Police State

There is no common ground between the Zionists and the "arbitrary" English Government in Palestine at present, David Ben-Gurion, chairman of the executive committee of the Jewish Agency for Palestine, told the convention of Hadassah at Boston, Mass.

He accused Great Britain of turning Palestine "into a police state without parallel in the entire civilized world, where every policeman can insult, beat, and loot every Jew in the country."

It was the first public address of Mr. Ben-Gurion since his voluntary exile because of the arrest of Jewish Agency leaders by the British in Palestine on June 29. The agency leaders were released November 5. The almost 1,000 delegates were from 750 chapters in forty-seven States.

Mr. Ben-Gurion rejected the so-called Morrison plan for the cantonization of the Holy Land and added:

"The only thing that can replace the mandate with our consent or agreement, and no settlement on Palestine is possible without our agreement, is the establishment of a Jewish state which will rebuild the country for the benefit of the Jewish settlers and the present Arab population.

"Only a Jewish state can bring about cooperation, an alliance between the Jews and their neighboring Arab states, for the historic common interest of all the Semitic peoples in the Middle East," he said.

The Morrison plan, he stated was "really only a modified white paper."

France Is Liberal On Refugee Ruling

While the number of Jews passing through France en route to other countries may not at any one time exceed 8,000 under a new decree, these displaced persons will not be herded into concentration camps or jails "like assassins or common criminals," a spokesman for the Foreign Ministry said.

The statement resulted from a semi-formal British protest that Jews were leaving France secretly for Palestine. Jewish and other displaced persons regularly equipped with proper visas have full freedom while they are in France. France has neither the desire nor sufficient policemen to "put one behind every unfortunate person passing through this country," the Government's spokesman said. This spokesman explained, however, that France had found it necessary to insure that not more than 8,000 of these persons be permitted in France at any one time.

It was explained that, while France was eager to place the most liberal interpretation possible on all regulations covering the arrivals of refugees, this restriction was necessary to prevent the country from being swamped with persons who would not leave. A thousand Jewish displaced persons

Bergson Plans "Provisional" Regime

Plans for a proposed "Provisional Government of Palestine" were discussed by the Hebrew Committee of National Liberation.

Peter H. Bergson, chairman, and Fowler V. Harper, new legal adviser, hoped that a "Hebrew National Assembly" would meet in a few months to draw up an agenda for the "Provisional Government." The meeting, they added, might be held in Washington or in Europe. If held in Palestine, they said, the meeting would be underground and secret.

A news conference was arranged by Mr. Bergson to announce Professor Harper's appointment. Now on leave from the University of Indiana Law School, Professor Harper was formerly deputy chairman of the War Manpower Commission, associate member of the National War Labor Board and solicitor of the Department of the Interior.

Mr. Bergson said that within the next few weeks the matter of his proposed deportation would be settled one way or the other. An alien, he has been in the United States on a temporary permit.

Notice to news contributors: Due to the great demand for organization publicity in the Meetings Column, this space will have to be reserved more strictly this season for those groups which do not use the daily newspapers except for publication on Friday of the same week as the material is to appear in the Review. Organizations which do not observe this ruling will be excluded out of consideration for those which use the Review only. Societies are urged to appoint able, conscientious secretaries who will follow publication rules. Material should be in our Montreal and Toronto offices not later than two o'clock on Tuesday for publication in the Review of the same week. Typed material should be double- or triple-spaced, on one side of the paper, with plenty of white margin showing. No carbon or flimsy copy accepted! If your news does not appear in the Review, it is "not in the paper" as far as reaching the public is concerned. If it is not in the paper, find out why!

Sometimes the Acorns are Imported!...

IT HAS ALWAYS been C-I-L's policy to quickly introduce the latest products of industrial chemistry into Canada on a resale basis until such time as volume justifies Canadian manufacture. From such imported acorns have grown such sturdy industrial oaks as "Cellophane", originally imported but manufactured at Shawinigan Falls since 1932, and nylon yarn, developed in the United States, but made at Kingston, Ont., since 1942. This policy of C-I-L brings to Canadians a double advantage. They enjoy the use of dramatic new products almost from inception . . . and by their acceptance of those products, speed the day when they will be made in Canada.

IN DEFENSE OF BRAVE MEN WHO GAVE THEIR LIVES IN THE BEST TRADITIONS OF THE BRITISH ARMY

By Samuel H. Abramson, 49 Grove Street, New York, Formerly of Montreal

I trust you will allow me the courtesy of your columns to correct the inaccurate and slurring statements on the role of the Jews of Palestine during the war which were made in the Montreal Daily Star by "Indian Army Officer" in his letter of October 19. During the war I served in North Africa and Italy with the Psychological Warfare Branch of Allied Force Headquarters, which was a joint American-British operation. My work brought me in daily contact with British officers and men, as well as civilian employees of the Political Warfare Executive of the Foreign Office. During the course of my travels I met many Jews from Palestine who had been through the bitter fighting in the Western Desert, in Lybia and Cyrenaica, in Greece and Creta.

In justice to these brave men I cannot allow the insulting remarks of "Indian Army Officer" to pass without comment. I might point out that my remarks can easily be corroborated by Rabbi Isaac R. Rose and Rabbi Abraham deS. Pimentel, both of Montreal, whom I met in Italy when they were chaplains with the Canadian and British forces respectively. Both these gentlemen knew intimately many Palestinian units which had seen active service in all theatres from the early days of the war.

"Indian Army Officer" stated that the Jewish Brigade Group, commanded by Brigadier Frank Benjamin, which went into action for the first time on the Gothic Line in October 1944, was "the first all-Jewish force, except one or two pioneer companies, to take the field". This statement is totally untrue. It was my great privilege to attend a party given in honor of Jewish soldiers shortly before it was first committed to action. Every one of the men I met that evening had had long experience in action during the bitter fighting in North Africa and Italy up to that time. Among those I met was an old friend, Lt. Julius Wolfe, a former Montrealer and graduate of the MacDonald Agricultural College. Lt. Wolfe had served several years in North Africa. He was just out of the hospital after an attack of malaria and was on his way to the Jewish Brigade where he commanded a platoon of assault sappers whose job it was to clear mine fields for advancing troops. I trust he came safely through the fighting on the Gothic Line and was able to return to the land he loved so dearly, there to resume his work of reconstruction.

Palestinian Jews and Jewish units served from the early days of the war. During the fighting in Syria in 1941, a group of 50 young Jews crossed the Syrian border to reconnoitre. This group of scouts went along with the first units of Australian troops to enter Syria. The leader, Moshe Dayan, was seriously wounded and lost an eye. Yet this young man, in November 1939, had been one of a group of 43 Jewish youths who had been given long prison sentences by the British authorities. They were found guilty of secret training for scouting work. He told the court, and the court well knew, that they were training to fight Axis-subsidized terrorists who were crossing the border from Syria and Iraq. He was sentenced to 10 years, but was released after 18 months, and immediately volunteered for service in the British forces.

At the outset of the war, despite [illegible] Arabs did not enlist in any numbers this rule had to be relaxed after some time. Also, at the outset, the government insisted on allowing Jewish enlistments in service units only, despite the protests of the Jewish community. However, many of these units, under the stress of circumstances, were used as combat units. Later, after great pressure, the government was forced to relax this policy too, and the Jewish Brigade Group was formed, the first officially recognized Jewish combat unit.

The first Palestinian unit, the 601 Auxiliary Military Pioneer Corps, 75 per cent of whom were Jews, landed in France February 28, 1940. After a few weeks they were armed and turned into a defense corps. This unit helped cover the retreat of the Second British Expeditionary Force and were among the last to leave on the last ship for England. Of this group, Field Marshal Lord Milne said, "They were told they would have to give up their rifles. 'Nothing doing, we're going to fight the Germans', they said. 'Today they are fighting the Germans in the Middle East."

The Nazi-inspired revolt in Iraq occurred in May 1941. David Raziel, a young Jew, was released from prison to lead a party of Irgun which saved the oil fields and pipe lines near Baghdad which the Germans had planned to destroy. This was of paramount importance to British strategy in the Middle East, and the loss of the oil fields would have done irreparable harm to the Allied cause. The mission was accomplished but Raziel was killed. Today Raziel's sister is rotting in some concentration camp to which she has been sent by the British government, and the Grand Mufti, who conspired with the Germans during the darkest period of the war, is free in Egypt and carrying on his nefarious activities once again. And while the Grand Mufti plots, Moshe Shertok, the man who recruited 30,000 Palestinian Jews for the British forces has been imprisoned at Latrun, without trial or hearing.

During the advance from Sidi [illegible] troops as far as Benghazi. Another unit of AMPE rendered valuable service all along the route from Sollum to Benghazi. Lt. Gen. Sir Richard O'Connor stated in despatches that the capture of Tobruk would not have been possible without the help of the pioneers at Sollum. Field Marshal Lord Wavell said of these units that "they performed fine work, prominently at Sidi Barani, Sollum, Fort Capuzzo, Bardia and Tobruk. They showed remarkable courage and a splendid spirit of self-sacrifice".

At Tobruk a wounded Palestinian Jew dove into the raging seas under heavy fire and saved a wounded Australian from drowning. Joseph Breitman, though badly wounded in the stomach, silenced an enemy machine gun and enabled a platoon to advance.

No less than 1444 Palestinians were among the 10,000 prisoners taken by the Germans in Greece and Crete. Of these 1023 were Jews, the rest Arabs. Air Marshal d'Albiac praised the Palestinian units under his command. Field Marshal Wavell said, "Their severe losses are a matter of regret". In this campaign many Jews were mentioned in despatches, two won the M.M.S. and one the D.C.M.

The 1st Camouflage Co. of the R.E. contributed to the victory at Alamein by creating the fake 10th Corps. This was a wholly Jewish unit. In Parliament Churchill spoke of "the glorious camouflage campaign." The small Jewish merchant fleet of Palestine served at the harbours of Sollum, Derna, Tobruk and Benghazi. Admiral Cunningham, C. in C. of the Allied Mediterranean fleet, issued a special order of the day celebrating the heroism of the Jewish sailors under his command.

At Alamein several platoons of RASC troops were attached to the 26th Australian Infantry Brigade as brigade troops. In the Montgomery advance 5 RASC units took part. In the "secret war" Jews from Palestine served in all Levant countries, in small units specially trained for guerilla warfare and sabotage. Hanna Szenes and Hana Senesi were only two of the many parachutists who landed in Nazi Europe and who perished miserably after dreadful tortures at Nazi hands.

"Indian Army Officer" refers particularly to the 51st (Middle East) Commando as "the only force Palestine put into the field in the first five years of the war". This statement is untrue, as I have already clearly shown. He also refers to it as a mixed Arab-Jewish unit, and that the Jews were "Sephardics", native Jews who are "disliked and shunned by the Zionist immigrants". This statement, also, is untrue.

The 51 Commando was recruited from the 601 A.M.P.C. which landed in France as far back as February 1940. At least 75 per cent of the personnel were Jews. During the advance into Ethiopia they acted as "suicide squads". They gave conspicious service at Keren and Gondar. Field Marshall Wavell sent them the following message, "Heartiest congratulations on the heroic fight and the brilliant victory of the Palestinian commando."

During the long and bitter siege of Keren, two Jewish members of the unit distinguished themselves and died the death of heroes. Shmaryahu Weinstein and Isaac Orlich were part of a group of 40 men under Capt. Frost. The company was forced to retreat and these three men carried out a rearguard action with a Bren gun. Orlich was killed first, and Weinstein then manned the gun until both he and Frost were killed. Their self-sacrifice enabled the rest of the company to withdraw. Do Weinstein and Orlich sound like "Sephardic" names, and are these the men who were "disliked and shunned by the Zionist immigrants"? Weinstein and Orlich were themselves probably "Zionist immigrants", and I regret very much that a British army officer has taken it upon himself to cast a slur on the memory of brave men who gave their lives and who are a credit to the finest traditions of the British army.

"Indian Army Officer" refers to the Kurdish levies. Where, may I ask, did these levies serve? And since when are Kurds Arabs? The Kurds, who live in Iraq, Iran and Turkey, are not Arabs by race. They do not speak Arabic, but a language of their own akin to Persian. They have been in constant revolt against their Arab rulers. They are, it is true Moslems, but that does not make them Arabs any more than Indian and Chinese Moslems are Arabs. Also, I should like to know, where the Libyan Arab Force and the Transjordania Frontier Force served during the war. "Indian Army Officer" knows very well that all the Arab countries, with their 11 or 12 millions could not equal the contribution of the Jewish community of Palestine, which furnished 30,000 men and women to the British forces. It is well known that the Arab rulers were playing a watching game throughout the war.

They were waiting to back the winning side and the help given by small Jewish Palestine far outweighed the total Arab contribution. An Englishman with whom I worked in North Africa, a Foreign Office employee and an expert on the Arab lands, told me that the great contribution of the Arabs to the British cause had been that they had refrained from openly taking sides with the enemy. At best, this was a negative contribution, and today the Arab powers are collecting very heavily for this contribution.

I should like to point out, too, that many of the young men who took part in the actions in Syria and Iraq, to which I have referred, had been trained in the famous "Night Squads" which had been organised by the late General Orde Wingate. The "Palmakh" which today is termed a terrorist organisation, is the direct successor of Wingate's "Night Squads".

In conclusion I must tell the story of one of the most heroic incidents of a war which was full of heroism by men of all lands and races. During the heroic defense of Bir Hacheim by the Free French in June 1942, a company of Jewish engineers under Major Felix Liebmann of Tel Aviv went through the same hell at Mechili, 60 miles to the east. From June 1st to July 2nd, this company defended Mechili from Italian attacks supported by tanks, planes and artillery. Water ran out and men went insane from thirst. On July 2nd they were relieved by the survivors of Bir Hacheim under General Pierre Koenig. Major Liebmann, wounded in the head and groin, staggered out at the head of his 43 survivors to greet the Free French commander. Gen. Koenig noticed the blue-white flag of Zion in its sheath and asked a question.

PALESTINE, BRITAIN, CANADIAN ZIONISTS, AND DR. RABINOWITCH

ADDRESS AT HOLY BLOSSOM TEMPLE

By Rabbi Abraham L. Feinberg, Holy Blossom Temple, Toronto, Ontario

On October 7th last, Dr. I. M. Rabinowitch, noted physician and scientist, made a reckless, intemperate and destructive attack on the leadership and masses of his own people. The only charitable explanation is that a man highly-dispassionate and meticulous in his own field can become a crack-pot when he enters another. Sir Isaac Newton, who discovered the law of gravitation, lost his balance completely when he studied the Bible. The Jewish Problem has bred many neurotic and fantastic extremes, in all camps. Dr. Rabinowitch can prescribe with world-acclaimed accuracy in certain ills of the human body; to the sick, disheartened soul of Israel, however, he has brought only additional pain, and into the mind of the Gentile who strives earnestly to view the plight of Israel with clarity and decency, he has injected doubt and confusion.

Normally, such a speech as that delivered by Dr. Rabinowitch before the Canadian Club in Montreal would arouse little attention. But Dr. Rabinowitch is a top-flight figure in this Dominion; a famous research-chemist in metabolism may be presumed to approach every subject as an authority! Furthermore, the press of Canada exploited his dramatic grovelling with avidity; the "Montreal Star" had reserved a whole page for his message in advance of delivery! Because of the universal and appalling lack of knowledge about Jews and Zionism, the evil effects of the doctor's charges are immeasurable. I am sure that his words have plunged the wretched Jewish D. P.'s in German internment-camps into still deeper despair.

Mark you, I am not reflecting on his motives. As soon as we impugn the reasons for a man's action, we have departed from the realm of provable fact to a sphere of suspicion and personal slander. Dr. Rabinowitch himself did not hesitate to do that very thing, when he accused the Orthodox Rabbinate of surrendering their real convictions about political Zionism because otherwise Zionist pressure would not permit them to earn a livelihood. Such a base charge profanes the lips that utter it. [illegible] scientist level such a baseless attack on the integrity of an entire group? Has he personally inquired into the motives of every Orthodox Zionist Rabbi? What would be said of a Catholic who defamed his own priests, or a Protestant who declared that the ministers of his church had bartered their beliefs for bread?

As a Reform Rabbi, I suppose that I may claim exemption from the malicious jibes of Dr. Rabinowitch. As a Rabbi, however, I have no intention of separating myself from my Orthodox colleagues. The irresponsible, arrogant accusation he levelled at them renders him unfit to speak on behalf of the Jewish people. He has convicted himself by that alone of moral immaturity.

Yes, there is much justification for the charge that Dr. Rabinowitch was, at least subconsciously, motivated throughout his speech by a desire to set himself right with the Gentile friends and associates whom he has chosen for fellowship. Only a psychiatrist accustomed to probing of complexes can perhaps analyze the deep-seated emotional sickness which drives an absentee Orthodox Talmudist into a sensational exhibition of disloyalty to his own rabbis. Much has been said about the doctor's courage. Is a man brave when he forsakes a tiny, weak minority into which he was born, and embraces the cause of the mighty?

Dr. Rabinowitch had an unquestioned right to express his opinion, even though he speaks for no one but himself. But why did he choose a Gentile platform? If he sincerely yearned to modify the attitude and program of Canadian Jewry, why not address his criticism to them first? The ancient prophets of Israel knocked relentlessly, unceasingly, at the minds and hearts of their people. Did Dr. Rabinowitch plan to frighten his fellow-Jews by pressure through the Canadian Club and the channels of high-powered publicity? I am a member of the Canadian Club; knowing some of its guiding spirits as I do, I am certain it was not designed as a vehicle of strategic blackmail.

The eminent doctor compared himself to Dr. Chaim Weizmann, also a scientist. There is however a world of difference between the two. Dr. Weizmann, as the elected president of the World Zionist Organization, has been empowered to represent the masses of Jewry, after a life-time of service in its behalf. The first of his being a world-renowned research chemist and nothing whatever to do with his leadership he won even with the help and gifts of Israel. Dr. [illegible] rently regarded Judaism as an antiquarian curiosity, suddenly emerges into the spot-light as the torch-bearer of pristine truth. His lack of authority issues not from the circumstance that he is a scientist, but from the tragic fact that he has ceased to be a Jew in the recesses of his being.

Besides, his address reveals so many inaccuracies and distortions, in fact, logic, and approach, that I find it impossible to trace them in the compass of a Temple sermon. If the metabolist from Montreal were as impulsive and unsound in diagnosis of his patients as he is of the Jewish plight, he would not be one of Canada's leading medicos!

Some of his jabs are beneath contempt. For example, he brutally castigated Rabbis of American citizenship in Canada who take a vigorous stand for Zionism. I am told he did not mean me, but again I crave no special grace. The doctor's reference to United States citizenship as a bar to the fulfillment of Rabbinical duty goes beyond any manifestation of prejudice I have ever encountered. Three years ago, on November 1st, 1943, I arrived in this land, as the chosen spokesman of a Jewish community. Since that date I have participated in religious, communal, and civic affairs in an ever-expanding sphere. Often I found it necessary to engage in controversy on crucial issues, such, as, for example, religious instruction in public schools. Yet no Gentile, whatever his disagreement, ever publicly charged me with overstepping the bounds of a non-Canadian national. The graciousness and receptiveness of Christian Toronto has been a source of profound joy. A Jew, a scientist dedicated to freedom of thought, committed the flagrant breach of hospitality and good taste, in the name of a 110%, chauvinistic, Canadianism that the vast number of liberal Canadians abhor.

The question of a Jewish homeland in Palestine is not political, but moral. The international commitments on which rests the modern Jewish expectation of a secure Palestinian homeland, the [illegible]

[illegible] universal principles of human honour. They have just as much validity in Toronto as in Washington or Timbuctoo. The Mandate in Palestine has been sanctioned by, and was granted under the responsibility of, fifty-three nations, all Christendom! I, for one, shall not retreat from an argument involving moral values because, forsooth, I happen to have been born below that dim and peaceful border between Canada and the United States. Not only the future of Israel, but the repute of mankind, hangs upon this issue. Shall I be confined to a judgment only on my own native country?

I have no brief for the Truman Administration; so far its record glitters with naught but pious preachments. Not one single Jewish life has been salvaged in the Holy Land through any forthright and sacrificial action of the State Department in Washington. It seems to be supine and unconcerned about the entire problem of Jewish rehabilitation; the admission of refugees from Nazi-poisoned Europe to American shores has been a mere trickle. Yet the chief stewardship for the fulfilment of the Mandate, and its objective, namely, the establishment of a Jewish homeland in Palestine, lies with the British Government. If the men who shape the policy of that government appear unaware of its moral obligation, they must be reminded by all who deem themselves to be servants of truth. In fact, it is our duty to protect the proud escutcheon of Great Britain from the menace of possible dishonour.

Before the United States entered the war, I risked repute and tranquillity to defend her name, in Denver, Colorado, where Wheeler isolationists regarded her as a weaver of seduction and lies. Today, I accept the challenge again, to make Britain mindful of her high estate, to shield her ultimate place in history from politicians who would shrink British generosity and greatness to their own stature.

Dr. Rabinowitch compared the Haganah, or Jewish Defence Corps in Palestine, to "Hitler Youth." Such a rash epithet is unworthy of a man who claims scientific precision. The Hitler Youth was organized by the Nazis to be the shock-troops of tyranny against democratic civilization. The Haganah grew from the need of defenseless Jewish colonists in Palestine for protection against Arab marauders. It was trained by British officers and performed magnificent service in the War as commando saboteurs of critical importance in North Africa and the Balkans. The British High Command in Palestine [illegible]

As Summer Welles pointed out recently in his University of Toronto lecture, martial law is being ruthlessly enforced, with the suspension of habeas corpus, and arrests and detentions without trial. Incidents of a shockingly anti-Semitic nature have come to light, all emanating from the military caste now ruling Palestine under the Attlee Government as a "police state." Yet the Haganah has engaged almost in civil war to stop the "terrorism" of the tiny Stern gang, it abjures the taking of human life and no member of this self-confident, stalwart body has ever been guilty of such a sneer as that of Gen. Sir Evelyn Barker, former commander of British troops in Palestine, who ordered his men to show "contempt and loathing for this (Jewish) race." Yet, Dr. Rabinowitch places Haganah side by side with the Hitler Youth, which left a trail of blood across Europe and cast the children of his own kin into furnaces.

The Zionists of Australia were accused by Dr. Rabinowitch of refusing an offer to admit a great number of Jews, thus exploiting the D.P.'s to press political aims. The fact is, such an offer was never made. The Council of Australian Jewry, through its President, categorically denied that the Australian Government had invited immigration. Dr. Rabinowitch up to date remains committed to his patently incorrect and ill-advised complaint.

Nor has he repudiated his misinterpretation of Zionist strength. In the first place, the doctor, contrary to the science of statistics, based his percentage of Zionist membership on the entire population, including babes in arms, as though infants could be expected to enroll themselves as dues-paying devotees of a Zionist organization. Therefore the figures he arrives at are totally misleading.

More important still, the support of Zionist aims among Jews is not reflected by official affiliation with the Zionist movement. Whatever the arithmetic of actual membership may be, the overwhelming mass of Jews [illegible] world is in full sympathy with the Zionist goal, even though some may be dissatisfied with the tactic for achieving it. Do all Christians belong technically to a Church?

In the United States, according to a Roper Poll, 80 percent of the Jews give adherence to Zionism, 10 per cent were doubtful and 10 percent opposed. In Canada, undoubtedly, the proportion is higher. As for the Jewish D.P.'s in Europe, a poll conducted under UNRRA auspices indicated that 98 percent not only support Zionism ideologically, but nourish the pathetic hope that it will bring them to a haven of rest in Palestine. Dr. Rabinowitch characterized as "cruel" the Zionists who pack sundry escaped refugees into "filthy, floating, boxes." If he will supply more spacious and luxurious transport, the ragged remnants of Dachau would be happy to accept them. As it is, in the words of Dr. Weizmann, the Jewish D.P.'s of Europe are ready to swim to Palestine on the tail of a shark.

The plight of these European Jewish survivors is very simple and easy, to Dr. Rabinowitch. There are only "391,000"! On what information does he base this calm, cavalier appraisal? The American Jewish Joint Distribution Committee, decidedly non-Zionist, has compiled the latest estimates of Jewish population in Europe. The total number, not including Russia, is 1,852,000. Of these, the only settlements which have any assurance at all of decent treatment, or liveable conditions, are the 345,000 in England, the 28,000 in Switzerland, the 22,000 in Sweden, and, with bare possibility, the 250,000 in Belgium, Netherlands and France, although vicious anti-Semitism, the seeds of Nazi occupation, is waxing strong even there. Only a third of the nearly two million, have prospect of stability, or acceptance as equal citizens.

ZIONISM AND THE CHURCH

By Captain Bernard H. Garfinkel, 2nd Bay Street, Toronto

In view of the comments aroused following Dr. Rabinowitch's recent Montreal speech against what he termed "Political Zionists", I felt that your paper might be interested in obtaining some further views regarding this far-reaching problem.

It seems unfortunate that the Palestinian situation has burst the bounds of being a totally traditional religious aspiration to the point where it now assumes the level of a post-war peace problem of the first magnitude, bristling with political recriminations and bitter nationalism. Nevertheless, I feel that any sincere contribution one can offer in this direction should be presented fairly and fearlessly regardless of any sentimental feelings one may hold. It is for this reason that I feel honour-bound to agree with many of the points raised by Dr. Rabinowitch in his recent Montreal address before the Canadian Club.

During my service overseas, I had the odd-fortune of being one of the few Canadian Army officers stationed in Palestine. I served there during 1944 and as a result, I had the opportunity of gaining some knowledge at first hand, of affairs in that country.

Probably the greatest source of conflict in the present Palestine negotiations is the Jewish Agency in Palestine — not world Zionism. While being in that country, one could not help but observe the hostility of some of the high officials of the Agency towards His Majesty's Government.

Somehow one almost felt that the seeds of dissension were continually growing to the very point of danger. This condition of uneasiness was certainly known to many leading officials of the Agency, nevertheless no direct steps were taken by the Jewish Agency in Palestine to eradicate this deplorable situation, nor was the Agency prepared to assist the British administration in taking any direct action in checking its growth. This failure can only be laid at the door steps of the Jewish Agency in Palestine.

One of the recent misfortunes of Zionism is that the tail has always wagged the dog — the Jewish Agency in Palestine has completely dominated the General Zionist Organization. Lately it would seem that this animal has acquired a new and uglier shape; an immense tail on a bewildered dog. With regard to the composition of the Agency in Palestine, it was the opinion of competent observers there that no amicable settlement would be achieved until such time as the Agency's political officials in Palestine were replaced by men of more moderate views, preferably of Anglo and American origin instead of the present dominant element whose hostile views and leftist ideologies seemed to bar any immediate hope of peaceful early settlement. Many well-informed people in Palestine continually expressed the fear that the course being pursued by the Agency was grossly misguided and would eventually lead to disaster. Developments since have proved the wisdom of their views.

Before we can seek a solution to the Palestine problem, we must first seek better leadership, leadership worthy of its responsibility not only to Zionism, but also worthy of its responsibility to Great Britain and the rest of Palestine. With this type of leadership the task of resolving the present dilemma would be immeasurably lightened.

For a lasting solution to the vexatious Palestine problem, reasonable immigration [illegible] both into Palestine and other countries, and the adoption of partition seem to offer the best basis for negotiations. By adopting a plan of partition, Great Britain would only be implementing the recommendations of the Peel Commission of 1936, which advocated the formation in Palestine of (1) a British area; (2) a Jewish state; [illegible] an Arab state.

Fundamentally, the problem in Palestine has not changed since then: it has only become more acute and intensified.

CLASS IN COOKERY

three large onions
two heaping tablespoons chicken fat
one-quarter green pepper
one tomato (or a little ketchup) two stalks celery
one heaping teaspoon paprika
one and one-quarter cups rice giblets, liver, and neck of chicken
one-third or one-half chicken

Wash rice and let stand in cold water until needed. Put the cut up onions, chicken fat, and salt and pepper to taste in a heavy frying pan, and stew over slow fire on top of stove until slightly browned, for about ten or fifteen minutes. Cut up celery, tomato, and pepper, and add to above, and keep browning. Cut up the giblets, neck, and liver, and add to mixture. Sprinkle paprika over top, and stir occasionally. While this is stewing, cut up the chicken in small pieces, and add. Cover and keep stewing slowly on top of stove until chicken is well done. Add a little water to prevent burning. When chicken is well done, drain and add one-half cup water and the rice. Cook slowly on top of stove for about ten or fifteen minutes. Finish cooking in oven, 250 degrees, for about twenty to thirty minutes, or until rice is done.

Mrs. Charles Edelstein,
226 Wellington Street West, Chatham, Ont.

ORANGE COOKIES

one-half cup butter
one teaspoon orange rind
one cup white sugar
one and one-half, or one and three-quarter cups all-purpose flour three tablespoons orange juice

Cream butter and sugar; add orange rind and juice; sift flour over that. Mix well with hands. Chill dough in refrigerator for two or three hours. Roll out and shape with a cookie cutter. Bake in a greased tin, in a 350-degree oven, for ten minutes, or until crisp, but not brown.

Here's really effective gentle relief from CONSTIPATION!

Get glorious relief from sluggishness the proved Phillips' Milk of Magnesia way. So effective. So gentle. Just take 2 to 4 tablespoonfuls with water. You'll be thrilled with the way it helps you start each day keenly alive and refreshed. What's more, Phillips' Milk of Magnesia is one of the fastest neutralizers of excess stomach acidity known to science. Its double-action means relief from constipation and relief from acid indigestion. Remember . . .

IN MEMORIAM

In loving memory of a dear son and brother, Herbert J. Nayman, who passed away November 18, 1943.

"Always so true, unselfish and kind,
Few in this world his equal you'll find;
A beautiful life that came to an end,
He died as he lived, everyone's friend."

Lovingly remembered by mother, father, sisters, brother-in-law, niece, and nephew.

In loving memory of a dear husband and father, Herbert J. Nayman, who passed away on November 18, 1943.

"Gone is the face we loved so dear,
Silent is the voice we loved to hear;
Too far away for sight or speech,
But not too far for thought to reach;
Sweet to remember him who once was here,
And who though absent is just as dear."

Lovingly remembered by wife and daughters.

Cards Of Thanks

The family of the late Gertie Goldstein wish to express their heartfelt thanks to their relatives and friends for their kindness and sympathy extended to them during their recent bereavement.

The gallant French soldier recognized then what the British government refuses to recognize today. Brave men deserve to fly their flag.

where they were imprisoned June 29.

Dr. Neumann warned the Zionists not to "overrate" the release of the Jewish Agency leaders from the detention camp. He said Palestine is still a police state, and pointed out that incoming refugees there were still being deported.

Dr. Israel Goldstein, former ZOA president, voiced the hope that "the latest amnesty in Palestine is a prelude to a new policy." He urged Jews throughout the world not to relax their vigilance and sacrifice to safeguard the rights of the Jewish people.

Louis Lipsky, a former ZOA president and a member of the Jewish Agency executive, declared that Britain through its world-wide propaganda, has used the "terror" attributed to Jews to make it appear that its armed forces in Palestine are there to maintain law and order, "although, in fact, its military activities in Palestine are directed to other operations outside of Palestine."

tion and colonization in the greatest part of the country; fictitious self-government of Jews and Arabs — practically a dictatorship of British colonial bureaucracy," he declared.

He praised President Truman, the American Army in Germany and the United States Government for the rescue of Eastern European Jews, 150,000 of whom, he said, were now in the American zone. Most of them were Poles who returned from Russia after the war, he added, but fled Poland because of pogroms.

travelling as individuals may be in France at the same time. These persons are subject to exactly the same restrictions — exchange control, etc. — that affect other persons passing through the country. Seven thousand other persons travelling in convoys will be admitted under the supervision of the United Nations Relief and Rehabilitation Administration.

While members of these group convoys must live in reception centers, such as the former United States Army camp near Marseille now used for this purpose, they would be permitted to come and go from the camp freely. In the instances of both individuals and groups, the responsibility for their eventual departure will rest with the Deportees' and Refugees' Assistance Organization, a French organization representing all the more important Jewish aid groups in the country. No transit visa for France would be valid for more than three months.

At the same time the Government's spokesman said that France could not admit Jewish or other refugees who lacked proper visas. It is understood that France has reiterated this stand in view of the fact that a trainload of Jewish refugees with Ethiopian visas had been stopped at the frontier recently and that another train containing persons from the American zone of Austria with no papers at all had arrived within the past few days.

ed that they would become permanent residents. To-day, passports issued to Jews bear a stamp entitling them to return.

The reasons for the apparent lull in hostility to Jews are various. The principal one is the strong action taken by the Government over the Kielce tragedy — the trial of the perpetrators and their immediate execution. Although there are several persons still to be tried, this prompt action undoubtedly had a deterring and even a sobering effect on militant anti-Semites.

The Polish authorities and most Jewish leaders maintain that the anti-Semitic incidents were instigated by Polish reactionaries abroad in an effort to demonstrate that the present Polish Government was unable to govern or maintain order. Whether this allegation is true or not, it is certain that one of the best methods of discrediting the Government is to exploit anti-Semitic feeling, so widespread in Poland. It does seem from reports to hand that the ugly Kielce affair was connected with the propaganda of Polish dis-lords abroad, and that it did their cause no good. It is also said that they have now

FIRST FRENCH JEWS SETTLE IN NEW VILLAGE

Fifty young Frenchmen and women who fought as a Jewish section of the French resistance took possession of a new village in Palestine.

It is Nevch Eilan—Oak Bower — in the hills west of Jerusalem. The Zionist colors with the French tri-color ribbons that these resistance fighters used as battle banner while fighting the Germans were hoisted.

The French consul general, René Neuville, welcomed the new settlement in a formal ceremony. The group — the first French Jewish pioneers to settle on the land in Palestine — will cultivate 425 acres of vineyards and fruit orchards, plant new forests and engage in dairy-farming.

The land was granted to them by the Jewish National Fund and the initial settlement costs came from the Palestine Foundation Fund.

only rigid control by the Red Army has prevented chaos, and a mass pogrom against the Jews. Practically in no land on the Continent, have these remnants been given any redress. Nothing of course will bring back their murdered families, particularly the children, of whom a pitifully small percentage is alive. The neighbours who occupy their former homes, and own their places of business, refuse to return them. In fact, many had exposed Jews to the Gestapo, or treated their death-rattle as an entertaining spectacle!

Have these vestiges of European Jewry any guarantees of future protection? According to the verdict of the Nuremberg judges, persecution of the Jewish people can be considered a criminal act only if perpetrated in conquered lands, as part of aggressive war. Although the admittedly-horrible crimen against Jews in Germany before the War were an integral part, in fact the launching-point, of Nazism's attack on civilization, the Nuremberg court insisted that they were outside its jurisdiction—domestic, internal, acts, beyond the reach of an international tribunal.

What about the Peace Treaty? Will it afford the Jews of Europe any safeguard? Recently a delegate from the Canadian Jewish Congress to the Paris Conference returned to these shores. His report stated categorically that strategic and political considerations alone have weight. The Jews cannot offer strategic services, because they lack a State, military resources, and a vote in the United Nations; they have nothing except a moral obligation to place before the great powers. "The special martyrdom of the Jewish people, their exposed position as a minority in each of the European countries, and the persistence of anti-Semitism in the lands under scrutiny at Paris were well-known to the public and presumably to the statesmen. But apparently no nation was ready to take diplomatic action or propose effective measures for the future safety of a crucified people."

To Dr. Rabinowitch, however, the solution is quite simple: the "391,000" homeless Jews can all be shipped to the United States. It is rather humiliating to witness the eagerness of the nations to open the doors of other nations for the Jews, as though these miraculously-rescued human beings were a plague. Must we beg entrance, like pariahs? The Montreal doctor would transfer the surplus Jews to New York, and, presto, the job is done, with no more difficulty than the shipment of surplus potatoes!

By some curious oversight, he completely overlooked the potentialities of Canada, where three persons have a whole square mile of living space. That was an incredible, inexcusable omission. The fine Christians who are striving to have Jewish refugees welcomed to this Dominion must be disheartened, indeed, when a noted Jew forgets to mention it even as a remote possibility. Does Dr. Rabinowitch really ache to help his Jewish brethren, or is he primarily concerned with relieving the conscience of Christian society?

Not once did he venture the suggestion that the Attlee British Administration in Palestine has ever been guilty of error or misdeed or neglect of its avowed purpose to establish a Jewish homeland. Surely, the crisis cannot be a black-and-white contrast! As a scientist, he must know that a policy administered by ordinary mortals, even when ideal in theory, must have human flaws.

The fact is, the implementation of the Mandate by British officials in the Holy Land has been riddled with indecision, blundering or downright sabotage from the beginning. The personnel to whom Britain entrusted it, as a rule, had no faith in a Jewish homeland, and no strong anxiety to create one. They were habitual servants of a crown-colony procedure; the very idea of Britain preparing a land to receive its population, as of right and not by sufferance, seemed utterly inscrutable to them. As for the Foreign Office in London, it has gradually whittled away the clear promise of the Balfour Declaration and the Mandate in which it was officially incorporated.

Need I remind him of the Anglo-American Committee of Inquiry, an elaborate mechanism fashioned at British initiative, to resolve the Holy Land impasse? On April 20, 1946, it recommended unanimously that the 100,000 wretched Jewish D.P.'s in Germany be transported from their concentration camps to the destination they longed for, viz., Palestine. After four months of exhaustive study, these carefully-selected, unimpeachable statesmen of both Britain and the United States arrived at such a conclusion. One would think not a moment would be lost! Yet they still languish in prison. These 100,000 are few in physical numbers, but morally their value is inestimable. Their future is the future of human decency, the barometer of the extent to which Christianity can move from the realm of doctrine to the realm of deed.

In the light of concrete, solemnly-promulgated, oft-repeated, never-repealed international agreement, the White Paper ban on Jewish immigration and land-purchase in Palestine is illegal; it was thus denounced by members of all political parties during Commons debate in 1939. The Palestinian residents who reach out frantic fingers to snatch a few surviving kinsmen from a blockade-running, filthy cattle-boat regard themselves as the agents of law and order.

And yet Dr. Rabinowitch has one consuming worry, that the patriotism of Jews who promote the cause of Zion will be impugned! What a hoary, outmoded bogey to trot forth at this desperate hour in Jewish history! I venture the guess that most of the 16,000 young Canadian Jews who served in the Armed Forces during the recent war believed in the value of a Jewish Commonwealth. Were Balfour and Lloyd George and Gov. Gen. Tweedsmuir lacking in patriotism? They supported political Zionism! Is Winston Churchill a traitor to Britain? He has stated repeatedly that a Jewish state on the banks of the Jordan would be of special worth to the Empire!

Not long ago Premier George Drew of Ontario delivered an address at a Citizenship Ceremony in the Parliament Building. I heard him say that the various ethnic and racial groups in Canada should preserve their culture and traditions, thus enriching the common life. Is it not a precious tradition to love one's kinsmen across the seas? Is a French-Canadian less useful as a citizen because he respects his roots in old France? Is a Scot less valuable to this Dominion because he has a tender feeling for his moor and crag? Then is a Jew to be suspected because he yearns to see the foot-sore and weary survivors of Hitler repopulate and revive the sacred soil of Palestine, his ancestral home? That little strip of land has been written on his heart for centuries!

The address of Dr. Rabinowitch before the Canadian Club evinced a constant, almost obsessive concern for the welfare of the British Empire. I also realize the perilous problems it confronts. Of all the great power-units in the political career of mankind, it has shown most friendliness and sympathy for the Jew. I do not except the United States. Furthermore, the continued existence of the Empire as a unifying force may even be regarded as essential to world peace! All the more reason why I deplore the Palestine program of the present [illegible] of Attlee!

[illegible] pendent Jewish Palestine will provide a bastion of Britain in the Near East, if she but permits them to become a majority. Can the Mufti, a Nazi war criminal, and the acknowledged leader of Arab strategy, be trusted! While the Arabs proclaimed "spiritual neutrality" in World War Two, 25,000 Jews eagerly volunteered to stop Rommel, under the supervision of Moshe Shertok, who, as I speak, stares through the barbed-wire of an internment-camp.

Will the Labour Government build a rampart against the Soviet by blowing the breath of life into decadent remnants of Oriental feudalism? Dr. Rabinowitch seems to think so! Or will that rampart be fashioned more unshakably from the individualistic, free, progressive, loyal hearts of a Jewish Palestine encouraged by Britain? Is the tragic story of Munich being repeated in Jerusalem? Will the British people consent to barter away their friends in order futilely to appease their enemies?

Dr. Rabinowitch denounces the terroristic acts of despair-maddened Jewish youths in Palestine with an air of originality. Every responsible Jew, every responsible Jewish group, has repudiated them unreservedly! They are doing infinite harm to the Zionist cause. Israel, which has for centuries been on the receiving end of violence, has never wanted to be on the distributing end. Our Law, our traditions, our ingrained habits are absolutely opposed to force. Yet, the toughened Jew in the Holy Land is at the end of the road; he has no place else to go; he must stand, or die! And he knows that the Mufti's mobs are whetting their daggers for the day when Haganah will have been scattered by British tanks.

It is easy enough to condemn an evil. It is difficult, but morally obligatory, to track the evil back to the policy that spawned it. As a Jew and scientist, Dr. Rabinowitch should have felt that such a quest was doubly incumbent on him. His own indignation at the bombing of the King David should have been measured by the pent-up bitterness of King David's descendants in Palestine, many of whom actually saw their children thrust into Nazi furnaces because the White Paper had barred them from the Holy Land. Recently, Prof. W. C. McCullough, of the University of Toronto, belittled the effect of the Synagogue's prayers for Palestine, because the world awards the battle "to the strong." Yet he is disappointed when some Jewish extremists in Tel Aviv follow his own hint, and turn from prayer to [illegible]

The [illegible] against the Talmud. The accuracy of his excerpts is not our concern. The $5000 reward for discovering flaws, which he somewhat flamboyantly offered, will not divert us from one basic fact, the Talmud is not absolute authority. The Talmud has been made "front-page" news, for the first time in Canadian history, but that fleeting fame will not make it Divine Law. It is a vast body of literature which grew up over a period of almost a thousand years, centuries ago, as a commentary on the Torah. Almost anything can be found in it to prove a point. The most remorseless foes of Israel during the Middle Ages were Jewish converts to Christianity who drew certain sentences from their Talmudic context to mislead the mob. If the Devil can quote Scripture, Dr. Rabinowitch can quote the Talmud!

Jews are not Zionists because of what the Talmud says; rather the Talmud is drenched with Zionism because of what the Jews have always felt about Zion. Even through many centuries of enforced dispersion, after the Romans crushed the Hebrew State, Zion's redemption occupies a high place in heart and in prayers, it was asked for in almost every religious exercise, even the wedding ceremony and grace after meals. This passion, this historic connection with Zion has been a part of Jewish thought and experience from the days of the Bible and was written into the Mandate. The current plight of Israel has only intensified it. For me, Zionism rests on Jewish history, and Jewish need!

A laborious distinction was made by Dr. Rabinowitch between religious Zionism and political Zionism. What does he mean by religious Zionism? The image of an ideal commonwealth in Palestine, to which the Jews were to be restored by the supernatural intervention of Messiah the Son of David? If, as he says, all Jews are Zionists, then the non-political ones like himself must inevitably belong to the class which is awaiting the Messiah.

Does Dr. Rabinowitch, the great research scientist, really expect a King to descend from Heaven and renew the sacrifices to God in the Temple on the holy Mount? What would that Messiah do? According to ancient dogma, his first function has been set, to destroy the minions of the hated stranger, namely Britain, break her shackles and declare the divinely-ordained sovereignty of Judah. Can that be acceptable for one who is preoccupied with the well-being of the British Empire? The political Zionists are pacific and mild by comparison.

Of course, the distinction drawn by the doctor has no existence. The political and religious Zionists in mind were and embodying no right border separated the dream of a homeland from the desire for God. In fact, the Schechinah or Holy Spirit itself was exiled with Israel, and Zion would bring them all together again. As the Midrash says, "Palestine, the birthplace of Judaism, and Israel, the custodian of the Torah, blend in perfect harmony and beauty."

Are Orthodox Jews opposed to political Zionism? In 1942, 757 Rabbis in the United States, the longest list in all Jewish history, signed a statement that Zionism is an affirmation of Judaism; the sponsors included practically all the prominent Orthodox Rabbis in America. One of the most militant groups in the Zionist movement is the Mizrachi, or religiously Orthodox. At one time the pious Jew may have been content to wait for the Messiah; now, under the impact of Jewish hunger for refuge, he realizes that the Messianic Spirit requires his active partnership.

The Jewish State has never been envisaged as a totalitarian, or monolithic, system. Jews plan it as a Canadian-style, cooperative commonwealth, where Arabs and Jews will be able to preserve their own religious and cultural heritage. But Israel demands that her children be granted a dwelling-place in Palestine as of right, and not by sufferance. These are the historic words of Winston Churchill.

A Gallup poll was announced just a few days ago. The question voted on was as follows: "If Canada does allow more immigration, are there any of these nationalities which you would like to keep out?" I read the results. Do you know the most unwelcome national group? The first three were Japanese, Jewish and German! Only the yellow-skin of the Japanese, and the war-time propaganda against them, pushed the Jew out of first place in the unpopularity contest. Unrepentant, Nazi-indoctrinated Germans, even those who might have murdered war prisoners or shoved infants into crematories, occupy a higher status, in the judgment of the cross-section which made up the Poll, than their victims. And the War against Hitlerite Germany has not yet officially ended! Will the results of this Gallup count make an independent Jewish State in Palestine less necessary? Only such a State can guarantee that Jews will always have a home somewhere on earth!

One final word! The Rabinowitch statement has cast indignity and the shadow of confusion on the entire Jewish people by implicitly denying to the Zionist cause its moral foundation. The address he delivered in Montreal nowhere permits a glimpse of the ethical values to which the longing for Palestine cleaves today. After perusing it, a reader ignorant of the events which have led up to the present crisis might wonder why Israel expected anything in Palestine at all!

"A Jewish State in Palestine would mean war," the doctor declared. The fact is just the opposite. The refusal to erect a Jewish State in Palestine would mean war. Why? Because such refusal would signify unmistakably that the plighted bond of nations is a delusion, and that the moral fabric out of which alone a peaceful world can be built, has irretrievably decayed. Then mankind will reveal total and blind disregard for that righteousness which, in the word of Scripture, is the artisan of peace. I have faith that Dr. Weizmann, not Dr. Rabinowitch, voices the soul of Israel, the heart of humanity and the will of God.

VETERAN ENTERS FLAMING HOUSE TWICE TO SAVE FAMILY

GEORGE McCONNELL WINS Dow Award

It was a cold, gray, October dawn when George McConnell awoke, gasping and choking. His home was afire . . . and his first thoughts were for his wife and three small children. But he knew he must get air before he could do anything. Rushing to the door he filled his lungs with the cool morning air . . . and then turned back into the flames. Groping, almost blinded by the smoke, he reached the bedroom . . . and led his wife and two of the children outside. Then once again, although suffering from burns, he entered the inferno . . . and carried the one-year-old baby, crib and all, out through the blazing doorway to safety. Within a few minutes the frame house was destroyed. But thanks to McConnell's courage and presence of mind, the mother and three children were unharmed.

To George McConnell of Aurora, Ontario, we are proud to present The Dow Award.
